

Pippi Johnson

Painting on 13th Avenue South in Front of C. Orrico

Pippi was born in England and raised in Winnipeg with her parents' adventurous influence. Pippi had a traditional foundation at the University of Manitoba. Moving to a small town she raised a family and taught high school art for thirty years. She obtained a Masters of Art Education at the California College of Arts and Crafts combining ideas of creativity and human behavior.

The contrast of life in the city of Naples and five months on a wilderness island in Lake of the Woods allows space between thoughts and a study of people as they move in light.

2018 Third on Canvas Juror's Award winner

Pippi is a returning artist and is painting in her second Third on Canvas.
